MP Board Class 12 English Question with Solution - 2024

Section -A (Reading)

1 Read the passage carefully and answer the questions given below :

Compared to me, other wonders of the universe pale into insignificance. I am a one and a half kilo mushroom of grey and white tissue of gelatinous consistency. No computer exists that can duplicate all my myriad functions. My component parts are staggering in number: some 30 billion neurons and five to ten times that number of glial cells. And all this fitted into the crown of a size 7 hat! I am Joe's brain. But I am not just part of Joe. I am Joe - his personality, his reactions, his mental capacity. He thinks that he hears with his ears, tastes with his tongue, feels with his fingers. All these things happen inside of me - ears, tongue and fingers merely gather information. I tell him when he is sick, when he is hungry; I govern his urge, his moods, everything.

Even when he is asleep I continue to handle traffic that would swamp all the world's telephone exchanges. The amount of information flooding in on Joe from the outside is staggering. How can I cope with it all? I simply select what is important, and Joe ignores the rest. If Joe puts a phonograph record on and attempts to read at the same time, he will concentrate on the record or the book, but not both. If Joe becomes involved in a particularly good novel, he should not be surprised if he doesn't remember hearing his favourite musical passage. Of course, if something potentially dangerous happens, I instantly shift gears. Let Joe slip on the ice and I immediately direct him to regain his balance, and then signal his arms to break the fall. Finally, if he hits the ground, I let Joe know if he is hurt. And the event is stored in my memory to warn Joe to walk carefully on ice in the future.

In addition to taking care of such emergencies, I have thousands of house keeping chores to perform. Overseeing breathing, for example. Sensors inform me that carbon dioxide is rising in Joe's blood and that he needs more oxygen. I step up the breathing rate timing the contraction and relaxation of chest muscles in thousands of such ways I baby Joe. In return, I am piggishly demanding. Although I represent only two percent of Joe's body weight, I require 20 per cent of Joe's body weight, I require 20 per cent of the oxygen he inhales and a fifth of the blood his heart pumps. I am utterly dependent on a constant supply. Let there be a temporary shortage and Joe faints. Let the supply be cut off for a few minutes and I suffer grave damage - paralysis or death may result. I also demand a steady supply of nourishment - glucose. Even in situations of acute starvations, I get first call on any available, for without me Joe would die.

2 Read the passage carefully and answer the questions given below:

The ultimate challenge is to make your mind calm. And the ultimate solution is meditation. In today's age every second person recommends meditation to the first! And for a student, there can't be a more powerful technique to improve long term performance in studies. Calm mind, better retention, better health, focus and concentration are the obvious benefits. You will realise the benefits, as your practice includes a general sense of well being and happiness and spiritual growth. The "mood" problem can be taken care of by this way meditation. There are many types of meditation. The simplest is of course, focussing on breathing. Since your breath is always with you, it can be done anytime, any place. But the best is to settle down in a cool place that has dim light and is relatively quiet. You must focus all your attention on your breathing. Observe your breath as it comes in and goes out. You will see that your mind will tend to wander a lot - but soon you will be able to bring it back on breathing. Don't obstruct thoughts, let them go off. All you need to do is to keep your focus on breathing. When you try this initially, you'll see how difficult it is to do! But soon, you'll gain mastery over it and who knows you might end up as a Zen master or a spiritual guru!

4 You are Sunil, residing at 26 , Gandhi Colony Ujjain. Write a letter to your friend Lalit/Leena telling him/her how you spent your summer vacation.

Solution:

Letter to Friend:

Sunil Sharma
26, Gandhi Colony,
Ujjain - 456010
July 20, 2024

Dear Lalit,

I hope this letter finds you in good health and spirits. I wanted to share with you how I spent my summer vacation this year.

This summer, I decided to make the most of my break by exploring new places and indulging in some long-overdue hobbies. My family and I took a trip to the beautiful hill station of Manali. The cool breeze, scenic landscapes, and adventurous activities were a refreshing change from the usual hustle and bustle of city life. We visited the Rohtang Pass, enjoyed paragliding, and even went trekking. The experience was exhilarating and left us with unforgettable memories.

Apart from the trip, I also dedicated some time to reading. I finally got around to reading "To Kill a Mockingbird" and "1984," both of which were enlightening in their own ways. Additionally, I enrolled in a short online course on digital photography. It was fascinating to learn about the technical aspects of photography and apply them in capturing some amazing shots during our trip.

In the evenings, I often went cycling with my neighborhood friends, and we discovered some hidden trails around our colony. It was a great way to stay active and enjoy the summer evenings. I also helped my parents with gardening, and we managed to grow some beautiful flowers and fresh vegetables.

Overall, this summer vacation was a perfect blend of adventure, learning, and relaxation. I would love to hear how you spent your vacation. Do write back when you get the chance.

Take care and keep in touch.

Yours sincerely,
Sunil

The Post Master
Head Post Office,
Guna - 473001

Subject: Complaint Against Postman of Ekta Colony

Respected Sir/Madam,

I am writing to bring to your attention the issues we have been facing with the postman assigned to our area, Ekta Colony. As a responsible citizen and a resident of this locality, I feel compelled to report these concerns in the hope that appropriate action will be taken.

Over the past few months, there have been multiple instances of delayed deliveries and missing mails. Important letters and parcels often arrive several days late, causing significant inconvenience. On several occasions, I have found my mails being delivered to the wrong address, and I have had to retrieve them from my neighbors.

Furthermore, the postman has exhibited a lack of professionalism and courtesy. He often leaves the letters carelessly at the gate, exposed to the elements, instead of placing them in the mailbox. Despite repeated requests to handle the deliveries more carefully, there has been no improvement in his behavior.

As these issues are affecting not only my household but also several others in the neighborhood, I kindly request you to look into this matter urgently. It is essential that the postman understands the importance of timely and accurate delivery of mails and maintains a respectful attitude towards the residents.

I trust that you will take the necessary steps to resolve these issues at the earliest. Your prompt attention to this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Thanking you in advance for your cooperation.

Yours faithfully,
Priyanshi Batra

5 Write a paragraph in about 120 words on any one of the following topics :

(i) The Role of Computers in every day life.

(ii) The Importance of Trees.

(iii) Value of Games

(iv) My Ideal Teacher

Solution:

The Importance of Trees

Trees play an indispensable role in our everyday lives and the environment. They are essential for maintaining ecological balance by absorbing carbon dioxide and releasing oxygen, which is crucial for our survival. Trees also provide habitat for countless species of wildlife, supporting biodiversity. They prevent soil erosion, reduce the risk of floods, and improve water quality by filtering pollutants. Trees offer shade and cool the air, making urban areas more livable by mitigating the heat island effect. Furthermore, they enhance the aesthetic appeal of our surroundings, contributing to our mental well-being. Trees are a source of raw materials, such as wood and paper, and many medicinal plants are derived from them. In essence, the importance of trees cannot be overstated, as they are vital to sustaining life on Earth.

Edla doubted the peddler's honesty and intentions. She suspected he might be a thief or someone who could cause trouble, especially since he seemed reluctant to accept their invitation.

(v) List the places that Gandhi visited between his first meeting with Shukla and his arrival at Champaran.*Solution:

Between his first meeting with Shukla and his arrival at Champaran, Gandhi visited Rajendra Prasad's house in Patna, Muzaffarpur, and finally arrived at Champaran.

(vi) Why do most celebrity writers despise being interviewed?*Solution:

Most celebrity writers despise being interviewed because they feel it invades their privacy, misrepresents their views, and reduces their creative work to mere sound bites or sensational headlines.

11 Answer the following questions in about 30 words each:*(i) Why has the mother been compared to the "late winter's moon"?*Solution:

The mother has been compared to the "late winter's moon" because, like the winter moon, she appears pale and wan. This simile highlights her frailty, aging, and the poet's perception of her diminishing vitality.

(ii) What is the 'sadness' that the poet refers to in the poem 'Keeping Quiet'?

Solution:

The 'sadness' referred to in the poem 'Keeping Quiet' is the sadness of never understanding ourselves and the futility of our relentless pursuits and activities that lead to conflict and suffering. It emphasizes the need for introspection and stillness.

(iii) List the things of beauty mentioned in the poem 'A Thing of Beauty'?

Solution:

In the poem 'A Thing of Beauty', the things of beauty mentioned include the sun, the moon, old and young trees, simple sheep, daffodils, clear rills, musk-roses, and the grandeur of the dooms we have imagined for our mighty dead.

(iv) What is the 'childish longing' that the poet refers to?

Solution:

The 'childish longing' refers to the poet's yearning for attention, love, and acceptance from his parents. This longing stems from the poet's feelings of neglect and desire for parental care and understanding during his childhood.

12 Answer any two of the following questions in about 30 words  $2 \times 2 = 4$  each:

(i) What does the third level refer to?

Solution:

The third level refers to a fictional, hidden platform at Grand Central Station that transports people back in time to the 1890s. It symbolizes an escape from the pressures and anxieties of modern life into a simpler, more peaceful past.

(ii) Who is the tiger king? Why does he get that name?

Solution:

The tiger king is Maharaja Sir Jilani Jung Jung Bahadur of Pratibandapuram. He gets that name because he is obsessed with killing tigers to thwart a prophecy that he would be killed by a tiger, demonstrating his valor and defiance of fate.

(iii) Will Hana help the wounded man and wash him herself?

Solution:

Yes, Hana helps the wounded man and washes him herself. Despite her initial hesitation and fear of helping an enemy soldier, her sense of humanity and compassion drives her to assist him, reflecting her moral integrity and courage.

13 Answer the following questions in about 75 words each:  $2 \times 3 = 6$  (any two)

(i) What did Mr. Hamel say about French language?

Solution:

Mr. Hamel spoke passionately about the French language in his final lesson. He described it as the most beautiful language in the world, the clearest, and the most logical. He emphasized the importance of preserving and cherishing their language, urging the students to guard it among themselves and never forget it. He lamented that the people of Alsace and Lorraine had often put off learning their language and stressed the need to hold on to their cultural identity and heritage through their language.

(ii) What made the peddler think that he had indeed fallen into rattrap?

Solution:

The peddler thought he had fallen into a rattrap when he got lost in the forest after stealing money from the old crofter. His situation mirrored his earlier reflections on the world being a giant rattrap, tempting people with riches and luxuries only to trap them in trouble and misery. He felt trapped and desperate, realizing that his greed had led him into a situation from which he saw no escape, much like a rat caught in a trap.

(iii) Is Saheb happy working at the tea stall? Explain.

Solution:

No, Saheb is not happy working at the tea stall. Although he now has a job, which provides him with a regular income and some semblance of stability, it comes at the cost of his freedom. As a ragpicker, Saheb experienced a sense of independence and adventure, even though it was a harsh and uncertain life. Working at the tea stall under someone else's command has taken away that freedom, making him feel confined and dissatisfied, despite the apparent improvement in his situation.

14 Answer any one of the following questions in about 75 words.

(i) Write the central idea of the poem 'Keeping Quiet'.

Solution:

The central idea of the poem 'Keeping Quiet' by Pablo Neruda revolves around the importance of introspection and maintaining peace. The poet advocates for a moment of stillness and silence, where individuals pause their activities to reflect on their actions and their impact on the world. This introspection can lead to a deeper understanding of oneself and foster a sense of unity and harmony among people. By keeping quiet and taking time to contemplate, humanity can address the issues of conflict, environmental degradation, and the hurried pace of life, ultimately leading to personal and collective peace.

(ii) Summarize the poem 'A Thing of Beauty'.*Solution:

The poem 'A Thing of Beauty' by John Keats celebrates the enduring and uplifting impact of beautiful things in life. The poet highlights that beautiful objects, whether natural or artistic, provide eternal joy and solace to the human soul. These things of beauty include elements of nature such as the sun, moon, trees, daffodils, clear streams, and the grandeur of the dooms we have imagined for our mighty dead. They also encompass human creations and experiences that elevate the spirit. The poet emphasizes that the appreciation of beauty helps to counteract the sadness, gloom, and negativity that pervade life, making existence more bearable and enriching.

15 Answer any one of the following questions in about 75 words.*(i) What are the indications for the future of humankind?*Solution:

The indications for the future of humankind, as inferred from various literary and philosophical works, suggest both challenges and hope. On one hand, the continuous environmental degradation, conflicts, and the rapid pace of technological advancement pose significant threats. Issues such as climate change, resource depletion, and societal fragmentation are serious concerns. On the other hand, there is also a strong undercurrent of hope driven by human resilience, innovation, and the potential for global cooperation. Advancements in science and technology, coupled with increasing awareness and efforts towards sustainability and peace, indicate that humankind has the potential to overcome these challenges and build a more harmonious and prosperous future.

(ii) What did the royal infant grow up to be?*Solution:

The royal infant, who was prophesied to be killed by a tiger, grew up to be the Maharaja of Pratibandapuram, famously known as the Tiger King. His real name was Maharaja Sir Jilani Jung Jung Bahadur. Obsessed with the prophecy, he embarked on a mission to kill one hundred tigers to defy his fate. His life was dominated by this single-minded pursuit, leading him to become a ruthless hunter. Ironically, despite his efforts to avoid the predicted death, he ultimately fell victim to a tiger-related accident, fulfilling the prophecy in an unexpected manner.

SECTION- A (Reading)

1 Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below :

The Gita is not an aphoristic work; it is a great religious poem. The deeper you dive into it, the richer the meanings you get. It being meant for the people at large there is pleasing repetition. With every age the important word will carry new and expanding meanings. But its central teaching will never vary. The seeker is at liberty to extract from this treasure any meanings he likes so as to enable him to enforce in his life the central teaching.

Nor is the Gita a collection of do's and don'ts. What is lawful for one may be unlawful for another. What may be permissible at one time, or in one place, may not be so at another time, and in another place. Desire for fruit is the only universal prohibition. Desire lessness is obligatory. The Gita has sung the praises of knowledge; but it is beyond the mere intellect. It is essentially addressed to the heart and capable of being understood by the heart. Therefore the Gita is not for those who have no faith. The author makes Krishna say :"Do not entrust this treasure to him who is without sacrifice, without devotion without the desire for this teaching and who denies Me. On the other hand those who will give this precious treasure to My devotees will by the fact of this service assuredly reach Me. And those who, being free from malice, will with faith absorb this teaching, shall, having attained freedom, live where people of true merit go after death."

2 Read the following passage carefully and answer the :questions given below :

Coal is a natural resource which constitutes approximately 85 percent of the total fossil fuel reserves in the world. The coal deposits of India occur in two distinct stratigraphic horizons Gondwana and its territories. Gondwana coal contributes about 99% of the country's coal resources. These mines are located in peninsular India, in the South Eastern quadrant, bound by the 78°E longitude and the 24°N latitude, thus, leaving a major part of the country devoid of any coal deposits. The major Gondwana coalfields are represented by isolated basins, which occur along prominent present day rivers such as Damodar, Koel, Sone, Mahanadi, pench and Godavari. The relatively minor resource of tertiary coal is located on the either extremities of peninsular India.

Coal can be broadly classified in two categories - coking and non-coking. Coking coal are that which has cacking property and which is used in metallurgical industries. Again depending on the quality of coke produced by this coal, it is sub-divided into prime coking coal, medium coking coal, and semi-coking coal. similarly, non-coking coal is also categorised in seven grades (Grade A to G), depending on its caloric value.

Questions :

- (i) Make notes on the above passage in points.

Solution:

- Coal as a Natural Resource:

- Constitutes 85% of total fossil fuel reserves globally.
- Two main stratigraphic horizons: Gondwana and Tertiary.

- Gondwana Coal:

- Contributes 99% of India's coal resources.
- Located in South Eastern quadrant of peninsular India.
- Boundaries: 78°E longitude and 24°N latitude.
- Major coalfields near rivers: Damodar, Koel, Sone, Mahanadi, Pench, Godavari.

- Tertiary Coal:

- Minor resources.
- Located at either extremities of peninsular India.

- Classification of Coal:
- Coking Coal:
  - Has caking property.
  - Used in metallurgical industries.
  - Sub-divided into:
    - Prime coking coal.
    - Medium coking coal.
    - Semi-coking coal.
- Non-Coking Coal:
  - Categorized into seven grades (A to G).
  - Based on calorific value.

(ii) Give a suitable title to the passage.

Solution:

"Coal Resources and Classification in India"

Invitation for Science Exhibition Projects and Models

Dear Students,

We are excited to announce that our annual Science Exhibition will be held on 28th February 2024. This is a wonderful opportunity for all students to showcase their scientific talents and creativity.

Event Details:

- Date: 28 February 2024
- Venue: School Auditorium
- Time: 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM

We invite students from all classes to participate by submitting their innovative science projects and models. This exhibition aims to encourage scientific thinking and innovation among students.

Guidelines for Participation:

1. Projects and models can be based on any scientific concept or phenomenon.
2. Participants must submit a brief description of their project/model by 10th February 2024.

3. All entries should include the name, class, and section of the participant(s).
4. Projects and models must be original and created by the students.

Interested students are requested to register their entries with the Science Club Secretary, Abraham John, by the deadline. Let's make this exhibition a grand success with your enthusiastic participation!

For further details, please contact the undersigned.

20 July 2024

Dear Rajesh,

I hope this letter finds you in the best of health and spirits. I am writing to share the thrilling experience of a recent cricket match that our team played and won, which I am sure you will find exciting.

Last Sunday, we had a highly anticipated cricket match against St. Xavier's School. The atmosphere was electrifying as both teams had a large number of supporters. The match was held at our school ground, and I must say, it was one of the most exciting games I have ever played.

Our team won the toss and decided to bat first. We started cautiously but soon picked up the pace. I opened the innings and managed to score a quick 50, which gave our team a solid foundation. The middle order chipped in with useful runs, and we ended up with a respectable total of 185 runs in 20 overs.

St. Xavier's team started their chase confidently, but our bowlers were determined to put up a strong fight. The turning point of the match came when Ravi, our ace bowler, took a hat-trick in the 12th over. This put immense pressure on the opposition, and they struggled to keep up with the required run rate.

The final over was nerve-wracking, with St. Xavier's needing 10 runs to win. Our captain handed me the ball for the last over, and I was both excited and nervous. With the crowd cheering us on, I managed to bowl a tight over, conceding just 5 runs. We won the match by 5 runs!

The entire team celebrated our hard-earned victory with great enthusiasm. It was a moment of sheer joy and pride for all of us. The highlight of the day for me was receiving the 'Man of the Match' award for my all-round performance.

I wish you could have been there to witness the excitement. I am looking forward to catching up with you soon and reliving every moment of the match.

Take care and write back soon.

Yours sincerely,

Anuj Dubey

Subject: Complaint Regarding Faulty Digital Camera

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to bring to your attention an issue with a digital camera that I purchased from your store last month. The details of the purchase are as follows:

- Model: Canon EOS 200D
- Invoice Number: ME12345
- Date of Purchase: 15 June 2024

Initially, the camera functioned perfectly and met all my expectations. However, over the past week, it has developed several problems that are affecting its performance significantly. Specifically, the issues are:

- Autofocus Malfunction: The autofocus feature is erratic and often fails to focus on the subject properly, resulting in blurry images.
- Battery Drain: The camera's battery drains unusually fast, even when it is not in use. A full charge lasts less than an hour, which is far below the expected battery life.
- Screen Flickering: The LCD screen intermittently flickers and goes blank, making it difficult to review pictures and navigate the camera menu.

These issues are severely hampering my ability to use the camera effectively. As the product is still under warranty, I request you to either repair or replace the faulty camera at the earliest.

Please let me know the procedure for returning the camera for repair or replacement. I would appreciate it if you could expedite the process, as I rely on the camera for my photography assignments.

I have enclosed a copy of the invoice for your reference. I look forward to a prompt resolution to this matter.

Thank you for your attention to this issue.

Yours sincerely,

5 You are Sonia Nigam. While watching a news channel covering a rally of "Green peace Activists". Write an article for a newspaper on 'It's worth, Saving the Earth'.

Solution:

It's Worth Saving the Earth

By Sonia Nigam

In a world where environmental degradation is a pressing concern, the recent rally by Greenpeace Activists serves as a powerful reminder of the urgent need to save our planet. As I watched the news channel covering this rally, I was struck by the passion and determination of these activists. Their message was clear: it is worth saving the Earth.

The Earth's ecosystems are incredibly diverse and intricate, supporting an array of life forms, including humans. Yet, our actions are causing irreversible damage to these ecosystems. Deforestation, pollution, and climate change are just a few of the many challenges we face. The rally underscored the vital importance of addressing these issues head-on.

Deforestation and Its Impacts

Forests are often referred to as the lungs of the Earth, playing a crucial role in maintaining the planet's climate by absorbing carbon dioxide and releasing oxygen. However, rampant deforestation for agricultural expansion, urban development, and logging is destroying these vital ecosystems. The activists highlighted that preserving forests is not just about saving trees, but about protecting the biodiversity that thrives within them. It's about ensuring that future generations can enjoy clean air and a stable climate.

Pollution: A Silent Killer

Another significant issue brought to light was pollution. From plastic waste clogging our oceans to toxic emissions polluting our air, the detrimental effects of pollution are far-reaching. The activists urged us to reconsider our consumption habits and reduce our reliance on single-use plastics. They emphasized the importance of transitioning to renewable energy sources to cut down on air pollution and mitigate the impacts of climate change.

Climate Change: An Urgent Crisis

Perhaps the most pressing issue discussed was climate change. The increasing frequency of extreme weather events, rising sea levels, and melting polar ice caps are stark indicators that climate change is accelerating. The Greenpeace Activists called for immediate action to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and adopt sustainable practices. They reminded us that climate change is not a distant threat but a current reality that requires collective action.

Individual Responsibility and Collective Action

While the challenges are immense, the rally also conveyed a message of hope. Every individual has a role to play in saving the Earth. Simple actions like reducing waste, conserving water, and supporting eco-friendly products can make a significant difference. On a larger scale, governments and corporations must prioritize sustainability and environmental protection in their policies and operations.

Conclusion

The Greenpeace rally was a powerful call to action. Saving the Earth is not just a responsibility but a necessity for our survival. The activists' message resonated deeply: it is worth saving the Earth. For the sake of our planet and future generations, we must act now. Let us all take inspiration from these dedicated activists and commit to making a positive impact on our environment. Together, we can create a sustainable future and ensure that the Earth remains a vibrant and life-sustaining planet for all.

Write a paragraph in about 200 words on 'whether the study of three languages at school is necessary or not.'

Solution:

The debate over the necessity of studying three languages at school is a compelling one. Proponents argue that multilingual education offers numerous cognitive, cultural, and practical benefits. Learning multiple languages enhances cognitive abilities, improving memory, problem-solving skills, and multitasking capabilities. It also fosters a deeper understanding and appreciation of different cultures, promoting global awareness and tolerance. Practically, being proficient in several languages can open up more career opportunities and enable individuals to communicate effectively in a globalized world.

However, opponents of the three-language system argue that it can be overly demanding and stressful for students, potentially leading to burnout and decreased performance in other subjects. They suggest that focusing on a single language or two would allow for a deeper mastery and more meaningful engagement. Additionally, the time and resources required to teach multiple languages might detract from other important areas of education, such as science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM).

Despite these concerns, the benefits of multilingual education seem to outweigh the drawbacks. In our increasingly interconnected world, the ability to understand and communicate in multiple languages is a valuable asset. Therefore, the study of three languages at school, if managed well, can be a significant advantage for students, equipping them with essential skills for the future. Balancing this approach with attention to student well-being and curriculum quality is key to maximizing its potential benefits.

The poet highlights that despite their physical absence, the 'mighty dead' possess an immortal quality through their significant contributions to humanity.

(2) What symbol from nature does the poet invoke' to say that there can be life under apparent stillness ?:it:1:*Solution:

The poet invokes the symbol of the Earth to convey that there can be life under apparent stillness. Despite seeming inactive, the Earth is constantly nurturing life beneath its surface, with seeds germinating and plants growing silently. This symbol suggests that even in moments of stillness and quiet, there is an underlying vitality and potential for growth. The poet uses this imagery to illustrate that stillness can be a precursor to renewal and rejuvenation, emphasizing the latent energy and life that exist within apparent calmness.

15 Answer any one of the following questions in about 75 words :*(1) Do you think that the third level was a medium of escape for Charley ? Why ?*Solution:

Yes, the third level was a medium of escape for Charley. Charley, feeling overwhelmed by the stress and demands of his modern life, longed for a simpler, more peaceful time. The third level at Grand Central Station, which he perceived as a gateway to the past, represented an idealized escape from the complexities of his present reality. This fantasy allowed him to momentarily detach from his problems and imagine a world where life was more straightforward and serene, providing him with psychological relief.

(2) What is it that draws Derry towards Mr. Lamb inspite of himself ?*Solution:

Derry is drawn towards Mr. Lamb because of Mr. Lamb's positive outlook on life and his ability to see beyond physical appearances. Despite Derry's initial reluctance and self-consciousness due to his facial scars, Mr. Lamb treats him with kindness and respect, offering him genuine friendship and understanding. Mr. Lamb's wisdom, acceptance, and encouragement help Derry feel valued and give him a new perspective on life, making him want to be around Mr. Lamb despite his own insecurities.

1 Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below :

Life is a struggle. "We live in deeds and not in years." If we rest, we rust. If we work, we shine like jewels. Adventures are the essence of life but action also entails contemplation. Proper action needs the proper initiative.

Napoleon took the wrong initiative and brought the downfall of France. Proper action is always taken by the wise persons. The wise persons always foreshadow the hardships for executing a policy. They become passive when they forecaste that their efforts are at stake. All great leaders and diplomats take the steps keeping in view their reputation. We should strike when the iron is hot. Some persons take the steps haphazardly with the result that they lose the opportunity and thus they are treated as fools. Angels are wise people are very particular about their actions. Solution:

4, Balaji Road
Indore
Date: [Insert Date]

Dear [Friend's Name],

I hope this letter finds you in good health and high spirits. I wanted to take a moment to share some advice regarding your preparation for competitive exams.

As you know, competitive exams are becoming increasingly challenging, and having a strong foundation in English and general knowledge is crucial for success. Here are a few reasons why you should focus on these subjects:

1. English Proficiency:

- Communication Skills: English is not only a subject but also a vital tool for effective communication. It is essential for writing essays, understanding questions, and articulating your thoughts clearly.
- Comprehension and Vocabulary: Many competitive exams have sections dedicated to reading comprehension, grammar, and vocabulary. A good command of English can significantly improve your performance in these areas.

2. General Knowledge:

- Current Affairs: Staying updated with current events helps you tackle questions related to recent developments, politics, economics, and international affairs.
- Static GK: Knowledge about history, geography, science, and important personalities forms a significant part of the general knowledge section in most competitive exams.

Tips for Improving English:

- Read Regularly: Read newspapers, magazines, and books to enhance your vocabulary and comprehension skills.
- Practice Writing: Write essays, letters, and reports to improve your writing skills. Practice grammar exercises to strengthen your understanding of the language.
- Speak and Listen: Engage in conversations in English, listen to English news channels, and watch English movies or shows to improve your speaking and listening skills.

Tips for Enhancing General Knowledge:

- Stay Updated: Follow news channels, read newspapers daily, and subscribe to magazines that cover current affairs.
- Use Technology: Utilize apps and websites dedicated to general knowledge and current affairs. Participate in online quizzes and discussions.
- Study Regularly: Make a habit of studying general knowledge topics regularly. Keep notes and revise them frequently.

I am confident that focusing on these areas will significantly boost your chances of success in competitive exams. Remember, consistency and dedication are key. If you need any resources or further guidance, please do not hesitate to reach out to me.

Wishing you all the best in your preparation. Stay focused and motivated.

Warm regards,

Shekhar/Shweta

Solution:

A Devastating Fire in Central Market

By Radha, Hindustan Times

Bhopal, [Date] - A devastating fire broke out yesterday in the bustling Central Market of Bhopal, a sensitive zone known for its dense concentration of godowns, shops, and stores. The market, which primarily deals in plastic goods, became a scene of chaos and destruction as flames rapidly engulfed the entire area.

The fire reportedly started due to a short circuit in one of the shops. Within minutes, the flames spread through the highly flammable plastic materials, turning the market into an inferno. Local shopkeepers and residents acted quickly, pouring buckets of water in a desperate attempt to control the blaze. However, their efforts were in vain as the fire continued to rage, fueled by the abundant plastic products.

The fire brigade arrived late to the scene, hindered by the narrow lanes that made it difficult for the fire trucks to reach the affected area promptly. Despite the delay, the firefighters displayed immense courage and determination. They battled the fierce flames for hours, working tirelessly to bring the fire under control. Their heroic efforts ensured that there was no loss of human life, a silver lining in the midst of the tragedy.

The aftermath of the fire revealed a staggering loss of property, estimated to be in crores. Countless shops and godowns were reduced to ashes, leaving many shopkeepers and business owners devastated. The incident has highlighted the urgent need for better fire safety measures and infrastructure improvements in crowded markets like Central Market.

As the city grapples with this tragic event, the bravery and dedication of the firefighters stand out as a beacon of hope. Their swift action, despite the challenging circumstances, prevented what could have been a far more catastrophic disaster. The residents of Bhopal will undoubtedly remember this incident as a grim reminder of the importance of fire safety and preparedness.

Write an article in about 200 words on "The Importance of Games and Sports".

Solution:

The Importance of Games and Sports

In today's fast-paced world, the significance of games and sports cannot be overstated. They play a crucial role in the holistic development of individuals, contributing to physical, mental, and social well-being. Engaging in sports and games ensures a healthy body by improving cardiovascular health, enhancing muscle strength, and boosting overall fitness levels. Regular physical activity helps in combating obesity and related diseases, promoting a healthy lifestyle.

Beyond physical benefits, sports and games foster mental well-being. They enhance cognitive functions, improve concentration, and reduce stress and anxiety. Participating in team sports cultivates essential life skills such as teamwork, leadership, and discipline. It teaches individuals to work collaboratively, respect others, and develop a sense of fair play and sportsmanship.

Moreover, sports provide a constructive outlet for energy and a break from the monotonous routine of daily life. They offer opportunities for social interaction, helping to build friendships and strengthen community bonds. Engaging in sports from a young age instills a sense of discipline and time management, contributing to better academic performance.

In essence, games and sports are vital for a balanced and fulfilling life. They are not just about competition, but about nurturing a healthy mind and body, building character, and fostering social harmony. Encouraging participation in sports and games is essential for developing well-rounded, resilient individuals and vibrant communities.

14 Answer the following question in about 75 words :

What do you think is the colour of 'Sour cream' ? Why do you think the poet has used this expression to describe the classroom walls ?

Solution:

The color of 'sour cream' is typically a pale, off-white or yellowish hue. The poet has used this expression to describe the classroom walls to convey a sense of decay and neglect. Just as sour cream suggests something that has gone bad, the walls symbolize the deteriorating condition of the classroom and the lack of attention to the students' learning environment. This metaphor highlights the bleak and uninspiring atmosphere of the classroom, reflecting the overall despair and hopelessness in the lives of the children who study there. The use of this expression underscores the urgent need for improvement and care in their educational surroundings.

Why is 'grandeur' associated with the mighty dead ?

Solution:

'Grandeur' is associated with the mighty dead because it refers to the lasting impact and awe-inspiring legacy they leave behind. The mighty dead, often revered historical figures, leaders, or heroes, are remembered for their significant contributions, noble deeds, and remarkable achievements. Their lives and actions continue to inspire and influence future generations. The term

'grandeur' encapsulates the respect, admiration, and veneration that these individuals command, signifying the enduring glory and dignity they possess even in death. This association emphasizes the timeless nature of their greatness and the perpetual honor attributed to their memory.

15 Answer the following question in about 75 words :

Why is Antarctica the place to go to, to understand the earth's present, past and future ?

Solution:

Antarctica is the place to go to understand the Earth's present, past, and future because it serves as a pristine record of our planet's climate history. Its ice cores contain trapped air bubbles that offer insights into atmospheric composition and climate changes over millions of years. Studying these cores helps scientists understand past climate patterns, which in turn aids in predicting future climate trends. Additionally, Antarctica's unique and isolated ecosystem allows for the study of how organisms adapt to extreme conditions, providing valuable information about biodiversity and survival. As a key indicator of global climate health, changes in Antarctica's ice sheets and temperatures can signal broader environmental shifts, making it crucial for comprehending Earth's environmental dynamics.
